

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly representing the name "Eugene". The letters are thick and black, with a slightly blurred, pixelated appearance. The word "Eugene" is written in a single line, with the 'E' being particularly large and stylized, and the 'e' being smaller and more compact. The 'u' and 'g' are also prominent, with the 'g' having a distinct loop. The 'e' is followed by a space, and then another 'e' is written, which is also quite large and stylized. The final 'e' is smaller and more compact. The overall appearance is that of a handwritten signature or name in a cursive style.
